

Our family pays for the convenience of having a telephone. We do not feel that it is right to pay to be aggravated by businesses we have absolutely no desire to speak with. We feel that we have a right to some privacy in our own home.